

“We manage our business with professionalism and passion to ensure a customized service to our clients aimed to fulfil their specific needs”.

The globalization due to the new communication technologies, is a new challenge for Ship Brokers. The need for high professional profiles is increased to respond efficiently to the necessity of selecting the most useful information pieces out of the big amount available to the service users (ship equipping and loading), starting from the choice of the ship and the overall transportation process.